The Certificate Programme in Rural Livelihoods (CPRL) addresses the capacity building challenge for existing and aspiring rural professionals who would potentially engage at sub-district levels in the rural development sector; be it through NGOs, Government Institutions and initiatives, or, as elected representatives of the Panchayati Raj Institutions (PRIs).

The Certificate Programme is for candidates / aspirants who belong to ST, DNT, NT communities from BRLF mandated regions where BRLF is currently mandated to support intervention projects. It is a multi-centre; multi-topic unique programme with a strong bias to IT enabled field-based learning pedagogy. The 14 knowledge partners, who have come together to offer the certificate programme under the umbrella of BRLF Capacity Building Initiative, provide all participants an opportunity to undergo a sharply defined, practice-enriched teaching learning experience. The program covers different domains of rural livelihoods wherein knowledge and skills components of these courses shall be imparted in field locations by these leading organisations in the sector across the Central Indian tribal belt.

Programme Design:

The proposed Certificate program consists of 13 learning modules. The execution of certificate program is proposed in two parts. Part I of the course aims at building conceptual understanding on key areas of focus under the Certificate programme, as well as, functional IT and language skills of participants for enhanced learning. This part of the curriculum shall be hosted at IIHMR University, Jaipur wherein the candidates would be exposed to a strong learning environment of a premier institution. Part II of the programme consists of Core thematic modules which will be executed at field sites of knowledge partners located across the Central Indian tribal belt. The core thematic modules integrate towards building a comprehensive learning experience of rural livelihoods interventions, given the varied contexts and agro-ecological zones.

Bharat Rural Livelihoods Foundation (BRLF) is an autonomous body, registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860. BRLF was established through a Union Cabinet decision on 3rd September 2013, in which the cabinet resolved to set up an independent society to upscale civil society action in partnership with Government. A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was signed between BRLF and Ministry of Rural Development (MoRD) to foster and facilitate civil society action in partnership with government for transforming the livelihoods and lives of people across India. BRLF's mandate is all India, though the initial focus of BRLF is on the Central Indian Adivasi belt, centered on blocks/ tehsils/ talukas/ mandals with a >20% Adivasi population in around 1077 blocks (as per 2011 census) across 190 districts in the states of Orissa, Jharkhand, West Bengal, Chhattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Maharashtra, Rajasthan and Gujarat.

The mission of IIHMRU is to improve standards of health and well-being through the better management of health care and related programs through research, training, and consulting activities. Working collaboratively as partners, disseminating information, and sharing knowledge at the national and global levels are fundamental attributes of the ethos of the IIHMRU. The University networks closely with prestigious universities and organizations at the international and national levels. The MBA, Rural Management, at IIHMRU is considered to be a flagship educational programme in developing trained professional managers with requisite skills for managing rural development organizations, both in the public and the private sectors. IIHMRU's School of Rural Management is focused on meeting the rising demand for quality interventions in the rural development sector.
