1	Certificate Programme in Rural Livelihoods Batch 5	30	June 26, 2019	Residential	6 months (1 semester)

Programme Overview:

The Certificate Program in Rural Livelihoods (CPRL) offers a critical, cutting edge understanding of the rural livelihood sector in India. The programme takes a strong field-based learning approach and provides analytical and skill training to existing and aspiring rural professionals who would potentially engage at the block level as leaders driving change within NGOs, Government institutions, CBOs or with offices of elected representative of the PRIs and SHG federations.

The certificate programme introduces participants to:

- Contemporary issues in intervention design, strategies of engagement and recent debates on rural livelihoods interventions in India
- Prepares students with necessary skills and knowledge to pursue ground interventions with a holistic perspective
- Allow participants to hone their skills as team members who would be managing programmes and interventions at the block level.
- Facilitate an opportunity for participants to learn 13 core thematic modules within the rural livelihoods domain from some of the leading organizations/ resource persons successfully implementing interventions in the field.
- Allow participants to reflect on contemporary issues of relevance in central Indian tribal belt from a grounded implementation perspective.
